Sport Governance, Ball State University (Fall 2010; Spring 2011; Summer 2011; Spring 2012; Fall 2012; Spring 2013; Fall 2013; Fall 2014; Spring 2015; Summer 2015[online], Fall 2015; Spring 2016; Fall 2016; Spring 2017; Summer 2017[online]; Fall 2017; Fall 2018; Spring 2019; Summer 2019[online]; Fall 2019; Spring 2020; Fall 2020[online]; Spring 2021 [online]); Fall 2021; Spring 2021; Fall-2021; Spring 2022; Fall 2022; Spring 2023; Fall 2023; Fall 2024; Spring 2025; Summer 2025; Fall 205). SPTA 448 is the discussion of basic theories of organization and leadership applied to sport organizations. This course emphasizes the structure and governance of sport within a variety of areas, including professional team-sport leagues, intercollegiate athletics, the Olympic movement, and international sport associations.

Sport Administration (Organizational Behavior), Ball State University (Fall 2021; Fall 2023; Fall 2025; Spring 2025). SPTA 485 Explores organizational management issues related to sport. Organizational theory topics include organizing, planning, decision making, human resources, leadership, program evaluation, and organizational effectiveness. Students will apply these topics to sport organizations and to their own career path through professional development exercises.

Sport Ticketing and Merchandising, Ball State University (Fall 2011). SPTAD 290 is an exploration and application of sport industry sales processes focused upon ticket sales, sponsorship sales, merchandising, and fundraising. Introduces the sales process, including prospecting, calling, presenting, handling objections, negotiating, and closing. Completion of sales training and making sales calls for a sport organization are an integral component of the class.

Internship, Ball State University (Fall 2010; Spring 2011; Summer 2011; Summer 2012; Summer 2014; Summer 2015; Summer 2016; Spring 2019; Spring 2020; Fall 2020; Spring 2021; Spring 2022; Fall 2022; Summer 2023; Fall 2023; Spring 2024; Summer 2024; Fall 2024; Spring 2025; Summer 2025; Fall 2025) - SPTA 479 is a supervised work and learning experience in the application of sport management knowledge and skills. Internships are to be completed with organizations within the sport industry approved by the program coordinator, including professional, collegiate, interscholastic, and amateur organizations.

Computer Applications for Sport Administration, Ball State University (Fall 2010; Spring 2011; Fall 2011) - SPTAD 195 is an introductory course in computer technology focused on application software use in word processing, desktop publishing, presentation graphics, spreadsheets, and basic database management. The course includes an emphasis on the basics of operating systems and special applications of scheduling, statistical, and ticketing software unique to sport administration.

Sport Marketing, Ball State University (Fall 2009; Spring 2010) - SPTAD 303 is an examination of the unique marketing processes within the sport setting, including an emphasis on: sport consumer demographics and psychographics, sport consumer behavior, target markets and market segmentation, trademarking, licensing and merchandising, sport sponsorships, and endorsements.

First Year Seminar, Ivy Tech Community College (Summer 2009) - IVYT 101 is a one-credit-hour Life Skills course designed to maximize the success of first-time college students as they transition to higher education. Course topics include foundational study skills, building self-responsibility, discovering self-motivation, mastering self-management, employing interdependence, gaining self-awareness, adopting lifelong learning, developing emotional intelligence, and basic computer skills for the college classroom.

Physical Education and Wellness Courses (PEFWL), Ball State University (1999-2001) - Supervised various Physical Education and Wellness courses as part of a graduate assistantship.

Courses Taught - Graduate
