

Human Flash Mob: Peace Sign

The 2011 Peace Fair began with a “flash mob” event sponsored by the CPCS in which at least 100 BSU faculty, staff members, and students stood in formation to create a human peace sign on the University Green. A few words were spoken by campus leaders in remembrance of individuals in the United States who have been affected by violence in the past and to promote a day of peace on our campus.

About Us

The Center for Peace and Conflict Studies is an interdisciplinary, university-based unit that pursues research on structural and direct forms of violence and conflict; implements nonviolent strategies to resolve conflict; offers mediation services to individuals, groups, and organizations; and trains people in conflict resolution, mediation, peace-building, leadership, meditation, and sportspersonship skills. It also pursues public diplomacy, sports diplomacy, and cultural exchange as part of local, regional, national, and international projects designed to promote mutual understanding, appreciation, cooperation, and respect.

To stay up to date with news and information about the Peace Center, call (765) 285-1622, email us to sign up for our discussion list, follow us on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram, and sign up for our newsletters! We welcome hearing from you!