Section 4: Score Meanings

Visual

If your highest score was visual, you're a learner who typically needs to use images, graphics, colors, and maps in order to understand concepts and thoughts.

Auditory

If your highest score was auditory, you're a learner who typically needs to listen in order to learn best. This can include reading a textbook aloud or being read to.

Kinesthetic

If your highest score was kinesthetic, you're a learner who typically needs to feel or move in order to learn more effectively. This can include being tactile or hands-on in your learning.
